General Information

The University: Founded 1795, officially chartered in 1789 as State University.

Enrollment: 7,513.

Nickname: Tar Heels. Adopted because North Carolinians as natives are known as Tar Heels. The nickname was applied to the residents as long ago as the Revolutionary War because of the abundance of tar and turpentine in the state.

Mascot: A ram. First introduced in 1924.

Home Floor: Woollen Gymnasium, completed in 1938 and named by the Board of Trustees after the late Charles T. Woollen, Controller and Graduate Manager of Athletics, is the capital of athletics at the University. It is a model structure for intramurals, physical education training and teaching, and is extremely functional with enormous and flexible unity. It is converted, with portable bleachers, for playing of varsity basketball games. Seating capacity is 4,800. Varsity court is 94 by 50.

Game Times: Varsity games start at 8:15 p.m. Freshman game preliminaries start at 6:00 p.m.

Radio and Television: Clearance is necessary for broadcasts. This may be obtained through the Sports News Director.

Press Tickets: Applications should be made to Jake Wade, Sports News Director, as far in advance as possible.

Conference: The University of North Carolina is affiliated with the Atlantic Coast Conference. Other members are Maryland, Wake Forest, North Carolina State, Duke, South Carolina, Clemson and Virginia.

Colors: Carolina Blue and White. For home games the Tar Heels wear white uniforms with blue numerals and blue-red trim. Road uniforms are blue with white lettering.

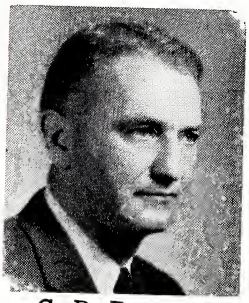
Charles P. (Chuck) Erickson

Athletic Director

Charles P. (Chuck) Erickson has been Director of Athletics at Carolina since June of 1952, succeeding Robert A. (Coach Bob) Fetzer, to whom he had been an assistant for a number of years previously.

As Assistant Director of Athletics, Erickson handled many of the details for Mr. Fetzer and built up a vast background of knowledge in such administration. He especially distinguished himself in scheduling high ranking football games, made possible by his popularity and wide connections.



C. P. Erickson

A graduate of Carolina with a B.S. degree in Engineering in 1931, he has been connected with athletics at the University in one way or another for more than 20 years.

A native of Oak Park, Ill., he came to Carolina as a football player under Coach Chuck Collins, the old Notre Damer, after attending the University of Wisconsin for one year.

Chuck was good at the game as a fleet halfback on a squad that was loaded with skilled backs. He also was a track man.

Following his graduation in 1931, he entered business for two years and then returned to Chapel Hill to work with the athletic department. He served as Assistant Graduate Manager of Athletics, engaged in field work as a fund raiser and also had a hitch of coaching and scouting.

After a tour with the Navy as a Lt. Commander, he moved into Mr. Fetzer's office.

As Director of Athletics, he heads a comprehensive athletic program and has made a distinguished record.

Erickson for many years has doubled as Carolina's golf coach and has been outstandingly successful. His teams won Southern Conference championships, both team and individual, in 1952 and 1953, and his golfers were runners-up in both team and individual play in the 1953 NCAA championships. His 1956 team won team and individual titles in the ACC tournament with record scores.

He turned out a national champion in Harvie Ward (1949), who later won the British Amateur and twice the U. S. Amateur. He is a former president of the National Golf Coaches Association.

Erickson's interest in golf was directly responsible for construction of the University's own fine

Frank Joseph McGuire

Head Coach

Frank McGuire came to the University of North Carolina in 1952-53 and thus is entering his seventh season as head coach of the Tar Heels.

The handsome Irishman, who won a citation as the best groomed coach in the nation along with many other honors, has compiled a remarkable record here as he did at St. John's, his alma mater, where he was head coach five years.

A 43-year-old native of Manhattan, he attended Xavier High School in Brooklyn where he was outstanding in football, basketball and baseball. He entered St. John's University and was captain in both baseball and basketball. He was All-Metro in basketball and played in the first big college game in Madison Square Garden.

Graduating at St. John's in 1936, he returned to Xavier, then became head coach at St. John's in 1946-47. His five-year record was 106 wins, 36 losses. Four of his teams competed in the National Invitation tournament and two were involved in NCAA eliminations. His 1953 team, after upsetting Kentucky in the NCAA regionals at Raleigh, lost to Kansas in the finals.

At North Carolina his teams in six years have won 107 games while losing 43 and in 1957 won the National Championship with an unprecedented run of 32 consecutive victories without a defeat.

Nothing in sports in this area over so long a period has ever equalled the excitement and enthusiasm generated by McGuire's Miracle of 1956-57.

McGuire was presented by his admirers a handsome Cadillac automobile, painted Carolina blue, and was named national "Coach of the Year" by every agency that deals out such an accolade. Among them was the Metropolitan writers who also back in 1952 had proclaimed him "Coach of the Year" when he was coaching at St. John's.

McGuire, who has a prepossessing personality, is a first rate public relations ambassador for the University. He has received nation-wide recognition for his efforts to improve crowd sportsmanship at games. He is also famed as a lecturer and conductor of clinics and spends much of the off-season in this endeavor, along with recruiting.

The Tar Heel coach recently became an author. His first book, "Offensive Basketball" was published in December by Prentice-Hall and has received excellent notices as a textbook and reference book for coaches. He has a companion book titled "Defensive Basketball" coming out soon.

The long suffering in the McGuire family, as the result of his extensive traveling and concentration on basketball, to which his life is dedicated, is his lovely wife, Pat, and his three children, two red-headed teen-age daughters and younger son. But they seem to make out all right in this hospitable Chapel Hill home where the "welcome" mat is always out to the many friends of their man and his fine family.

Dean Edwards Smith

Assistant Coach

Dean Edwards Smith, a native of Topeka, Kansas, last spring was appointed Assistant Basketball Coach at the University of North Carolina, succeeding James A. (Buck) Freeman, who resigned following last season.

Dean Smith, who is 27 years old, is a graduate of the University of Kansas and was on the national champion team of 1952 and the national runner-up team of 1953. He also played baseball and freshman football at Kansas.

Smith did his first coaching at Kansas, as an assistant. After that, while in the service, he played and coached in Germany.

He came here from the United States Air Force Academy where he had two years experience as assistant basketball coach and also coached baseball and golf. He was a lieutenant in the Air Force.

Smith is married to the former Ann Cleavinger of Manhattan, Kansas. His family includes two daughters, Sharon, 3 and Sandra, 2.

Joseph Francis Quigg

Assistant to the Coach

Joe Quigg is serving this season as Assistant to the Coach while on leave of absence from the professional New York Knickerbockers, recuperating from a leg fracture.

Quigg, who is 22 years old and a University of North Carolina graduate of 1958 with a Bachelor of Science degree in Industrial Relations, was a star player on the National champion team of 1957.

Quigg dropped in the two free throws in third overtime to beat Kansas in the titular game and also blocked a pass to Chamberlain to clinch the victory. That season Quigg averaged 10.3 points per game and collected 268 rebounds for an 8.7 average.

He was unable to play his last year of eligibility because of his pre-season leg injury. Signed by the Knickerbockers, he discovered in training that the injury had not sufficiently healed to play this season and he returned to his alma mater to help in the basketball office. He is still the property of the Knickerbockers.

Prospectus

This is a "rebuilding" year for the Tar Heels, as Coach Frank McGuire puts it, but the squad is expected to improve steadily and reach its peak late in the season.

As to how good it will become by ACC tournament time remains to be seen, but despite its inexperience, it has good potential.

Gone are all the flaming stars of the National Champion team of two seasons ago except Captain Danny Lotz, who was the "sixth" man on that squad but was used sparingly last year because of injuries. He is the only senior on the squad.

At that, there are eight lettermen and the squad has good depth and fine height. Pre-season practice indicated it will be a high spirited and determined team with most of the players having good shots and skills, needing only experience to make them effective.

In addition to Lotz, the lettermen are Harvey Salz, Ray Stanley, John Crotty and Gehrmann Holland, back court men, and Grey Poole, Lee Shaffer, and Dick Kepley, forwards and centers. Salz, Kepley and Shaffer played regularly last season as sophomores, but the others have seen very limited action.

Doug Moe heads an impressive sophomore brigade. The handsome, smooth working 6-5 Brooklyn boy promises to be a very fine operative. York Larese, 6-3½, New York, unable to play last year because of a knee injury, brings to the squad some extraordinary shooting ability. Lou Brown and Hugh Donohue round out the squad. All of the players are well over six feet in height with the exception of 5-11 Crotty.

This is a team that might surprise, but Coach McGuire is afraid the players are at least a year away from their full potential.

Profiles

12—LEE SHAFFER BUS. ADM.
Jr., 19, 6-7, 220, Pittsburgh, Pa. . . . Has great potential. . . . Excellent shot from corner and pivot. . . . Swished 286 points through the nets last year. . . . Had fine 43% field goal accuracy. . . . Should develop into one of best rebounders in conference. . . . Very fast, despite his size. . . . Has good spring, can dunk ball effectively with either hand.

33—DANNY LOTZ ENGLISH
Sr., 21, 6-7, 215, Northport, L. I., N. Y. . . . Captain. . . . Only senior on squad. . . . Is expected to regain sophomore form when he was a top reserve on NCAA Championship outfit. . . . Action last year limited due to injuries. . . . Has excellent left-hand jump shot. . . . Son of Baptist minister . . . member of Grail and campus leader.

35—DOUG MOE LIB. ARTS
Soph., 19, 6-5, 205, Brooklyn, N. Y. . . . Top player on frosh team last year. . . . Has ability to play either guard or forward. . . . Probably will see action at all positions before year is over. . . . Good all-around performer, although he lacks experience. . . . Exceptional defensive player. . . . Ineligible part of last season.

43—GREY POOLE BUS. ADM.
Jr., 20, 6-5, 215, Raleigh, N. C. . . . After seeing limited action last year, Grey is expected to fight for more activity this year. . . . Has shown vast overall improvement. . . . Needs experience. . . . Reported overweight but is working to get into condition.

Profiles

34—DICK KEPLEY LIB. ARTS
Jr., 21, 6-8, 225, Roanoke, Va. . . . After being moved into starting lineup unexpectedly last year when Quigg was injured, Dick became one of top sophs in league. . . . Year of experience should definitely show in his performance this year. . . . Probably still a year away from being a top-notch collegiate pivot man. . . . Possesses excellent reach and therefore plays an inch taller than 6'8". . . . Practically won N. C. State game at Raleigh last year by himself. . . . Fine rebounder, has developed good hook shot.

41—HUGH DONOHUE IND. REL.
Soph., 18, 6-8, 223, Bronx, N. Y. . . . Promising youngster who lacks experience. . . . At relatively young age of 18, he is a year away from seeing much action. . . . Although he will be used primarily at pivot this year, he is basically a corner man, where he played in high school. . . . Has good attitude and learns quickly, so possibly may be great help before season is completed.

42—HARVEY SALZ LIB. ARTS
Jr., 21, 6-1, 185, Brooklyn, N. Y. . . . Excellent shot and exceptional ballhandler. . . . Team playmaker. . . . Scored 266 points last season for 10.2 average. . . . Has amazing ability to come up with "the great play." . . . Year of experience has helped him in selection of shots. . . . Expected to be consistent high scorer. . . . Great middle-man on fast break.

30—RAY STANLEY ACCOUNT.
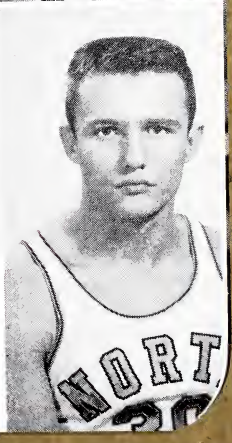
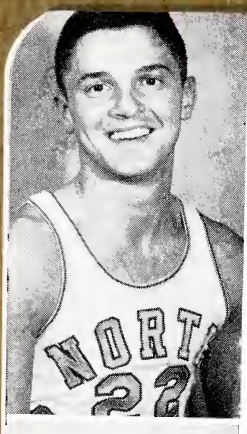
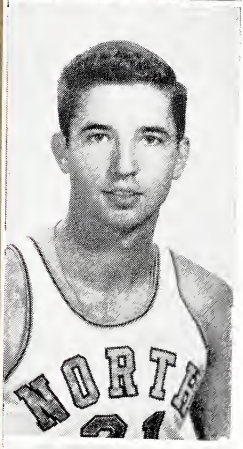
Jr., 20, 6-4, 200, Brooklyn, N. Y. . . . Making adjustment from forward to backcourt very rapidly. . . . Has all potential and moves to develop into a fine guard. . . . Fastest man on team. . . . Can "dunk" the ball. . . . Came off bench in ACC Tourney a year ago and did exceptional job. . . . Outstanding broad-jumper on track team.



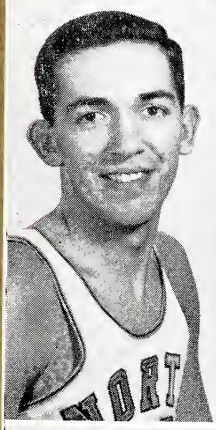


Profiles

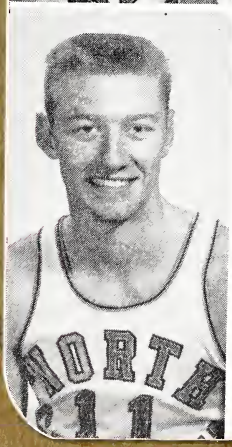
22—YORK LARESE SOCIOLOGY
Soph., 20, 6-4, 190, New York, N. Y. . . . Sat out last year because of knee operation. . . . Splendid shooter. . . . Is challenger for first team berth . . . Possesses quick and sure hands. . . . York is considered a great passer and therefore has made transfer to backcourt from forward slot.



31—GEHRMANN HOLLAND ENG.
Jr., 21, 6-1, 190, Beaufort, N. C. . . . Did not see action last season after playing in 12 contests for 1957 NCAA Champs. . . . Fine one-hand set shooter. . . . Should be a leading reserve, either at guard or forward.



32—LOU BROWN LIB. ARTS
Soph., 19, 6-3, 195, Jersey City, N. J. . . . One of best shooters on team. . . . Outstanding frosh performer last season. . . . May see action in backcourt in "spot" roles. . . . Needs to improve other phases of game before becoming a starter.



11—JOHN CROTTY HISTORY
Jr., 20, 5-11, 162, Bayonne, N. J. . . . Fine defensive player. . . . Very agile, with quick reflexes. . . . Saw considerable action last year in spot performances. . . . Was usually used in protecting a lead or pressing opponents in late stages of game. . . . Only man on squad under six feet. . . . Expected to be a great help this year. . . . Effective with jump shot and drives well.

WRESTLING

Coach Sam G. Barnes

Coach Barnes came to UNC in 1951 from VMI, where he had compiled a fine coaching record for eight years. Prior to beginning his coaching career, he had wrestled at Oklahoma A&M and participated in the Olympic trials twice. His experience in the wrestling field in both competition and coaching covers well over 20 years.

Dr. Barnes holds a B.S. degree from Oklahoma A&M and an English Masters and Doctorate from UNC. In addition to his coaching duties, he is a regular member of the English department at UNC. He is married and has two sons.

Prospectus

Coach Barnes says this season's edition will be UNC's best in many years. It will need to be, as the schedule has been beefed up to be the longest (12 meets) and the toughest in the history of the school. West Virgina and Navy (two teams the Tar Heels have never defeated) return to the schedule along with Maryland (ACC champ) and VPI (Southern Conference titleholder).

UNC optimism is high due to a greater degree of experience. Eight lettermen return from last year's squad to form the basic team. Nine freshmen who are fine matmen support the returnees.

Outstanding veterans are Captain Perrin Henderson, Dave Atkinson and Henry Rhyne. Bill Suttle and J. W. Welborn are also fine performers while the outstanding sophomores will likely be Clifton Woodrum and John Matney.

SWIMMING

Coach Pat Earey

Coach Pat Earey is now in his second year of coaching the Tar Heel swimmers. After completing his undergraduate and Master's work at North Carolina in 1952, Pat spent five years teaching and coaching at Greensboro Senior High School. He returned last year to Chapel Hill to continue the winning tradition of Carolina's swimming teams.

A former professional baseball player in this state, Pat is married and is the father of two young children.

Earey will be assisted by Dick Jamerson, who doubles as freshman coach, and Pete Higgins, former Carolina splash star.

Prospectus

The North Carolina swimming team opens its 1958-59 season with a mark of 20 consecutive victories dating from early 1956. The Tar Heels are defending ACC champions.

The present edition of the Tar Heel swimmers will be lacking considerably in experience since only four members with proven ability return from last season's wonderful squad. The freshman club of last season gave indications of being an outstanding group and the hopes for the upcoming year rests on their shoulders.

Brent Nash, Kit Mercer, Bob Turner, Dick Cashwell, Pete Reynolds, and Jeff Zwicker will be the nucleus of the 1958 team. Much help is expected to come from Bob Hunter, Chuck Wrye, Dick Barrett, Bill Hamill and Sam Douglas.
